Eight more months of Roosevelt and then forty-eight of—whom?

Who gets all the money paid for that "first bale" of cotton on its three sales?

We are glad to know that Tom Watson will have to run on only one ticket this year.

The dark horse idea is not a taking one yet with the delegates to the State convention.

That gate arrangement at the ball grounds may work well ,but we have our doubts about it.

We suppose Mr. Gompers is ready to march on Denver with his demands on the Democratic convention.

It looks like the Johnson men could have captured the North Carolina convention had they gone to work in time.

The most extreme pessimist cannot find complaint that there is not enough heat in the sun's rays these days.

It begins to look like the State convention should begin to take steps for the conduct of religious services tomorrow.

What will Joe Brown, the silent man of Georgia, do when the chairman of the notification committee makes his speech to him?

Charlotte feels proud of the way in which she has taken care of her thousands of visitors this week, and she has cause to feel so.

The delegates to the State convention were not in the humor for passing Bryan instructions resolution early in the session, whatever they may do later on.

The ideal vacation when one wants rest, recreation or pleasure is one spent at Wrightsville Beach. If you don't believe us just try a week at the Seashore Hotel.

It looks like the Newbern team has learned how to play ball, or that the Wilmington players have forgotten a great deal about how the game is played.

It seems that President Roosevelt forgot to send a message of congratulations to the King and Queen of Spain, and it was a second son in two years and one month.

There has not been a report for two days as to progress of work in the Oyster Bay hay field. We suppose Mr. Loeb will be blamed for this oversight in so important a matter.

DEADLOCK IS UNBROKEN; CONVENTION STILL BUSY

In Continuous Session Since Early Yesterday Morning Democratic Hosts in Charlotte Appear Almost as Much at Sea as Ever—Will Ring in No Dark Horse

(Special Star Telegram.)

Charlotte, N. C., (Saturday) June 27.—This morning at 3 o'clock the fortieth ballot for the nomination of a Governor by the Democratic State Convention had been taken with no material change in the result after a continuous session since yesterday (Friday) morning at 10:25 o'clock. Kitchin has gained a fraction over four votes since yesterday morning but he still lacks 44 votes of the nomination.

It is understood that the Horne forces are ready to go to Craig, but they dare not make the move for fear that Kitchin will capture a sufficient number of the votes to nominate him. At 10 o'clock last night a motion to adjourn was hooted down and the convention is still in session. The delegates after being in session more than 48 hours are worn out but show no signs of giving up. State Senator Mason, of Northampton, was rung in as a dark horse on the 18th ballot yesterday, but received only the complimentary vote of his county. The delegates seemed determined to have no dark horses and say they will remain in session all Summer, if necessary.

The balloting is slow and tedious, requiring practically an hour for each ballot.

On the 38th ballot Congressman W. W. Kitchin's vote stood at three hundred and eighty-six. It requires 429 to nominate. The mountain delegation, which is making the welkin ring in the convention hall and on the streets for Craig was reinforced this morning by a fresh delegation which arrived on a special train. Other western counties will send reinforcements tomorrow if no nomination is reached and the outlook for an early termination of the contest is not roseate. The newly arrived delegates are making themselves heard. Those who have been present from the first are too tired to make much noise. The effort of an Asheville citizen, not a delegate, to address the convention nearly precipitated a row at mid-night but the interloper was ejected before trouble came. The few efforts to adjourn have been hooted down and with fresh arrivals of delegates the convention is prepared for a long siege.

The Story in Detail.

Charlotte, N. C., June 26.—Things are reaching a desperate state of affairs in the State Democratic Convention tonight. Every delegate physically worn out and with nearly 48 hours of incessant labor, makes the work of the meeting so tedious as to keep the nerves of the delegates in a more or less worn out condition.

The results of the past 24 hours are nothing. The variation in the ballots has been small except that Kitchin's vote since noon has run close to 383, while the past six or eight ballots gave him 377 and a fraction. He is slowly gaining. Craig, who scored 340 votes on the sixth ballot Wednesday night has not touched that mark again, lacking this afternoon less than two-tenths of a vote. Craig's vote has varied between 316 and 339 today, largely attributed to the changes of the Horne vote.

The local committee is endeavoring to secure extension of railroad tickets of the delegates.

The Morning Session.

The State Democratic convention began the third day of the deadlock when Chairman Parsons called the meeting to order at 10:25 o'clock this morning. The hundreds of delegates and visitors who spent the night preceding at the auditorium in sleepless turmoil came up this morning refreshed and ready to enter the day's work with a renewed energy. The convention had adjourned at 2 o'clock in the morning after the 14th ballot. A break in the proceedings took place when the vote of Onslow was challenged because a Horne delegate, having returned home, did not leave the proper direction as to how the Horne vote should be cast. When this vote was given this morning to Kitchin on the 17th ballot, half a dozen men leaped to their feet in wild protest. Chairman Parsons rapped with sledge hammer blows for order and securing a measure of quiet, said: "Gentlemen, don't dispute among yourselves, address the chair and not in tiger fashion. There is no need for heat or uncontrolled feeling in this matter. It would do no good nor help matters."

An Onslow delegate arose to his feet and said that the absent delegate had stated that Kitchin was his second choice when it came to a disposition of the vote today.

Another Onslow delegate leaped to the platform and said that the Onslow county convention had instructed their delegates to cast the vote on a pro-rata basis, as the three candidates were represented in the county convention, and that nobody had a right to change these directions.

Chairman Parsons said that it was the chair's ruling, as he understood the case, that the remaining delegates from Onslow had no right to dispose of the Horne vote, unless the delegation held a formal meeting and the Horne delegate in the legal way had disposed of his vote or instructed his colleagues rightly what to do.

"None of the delegation could cast the vote by proxy however," said the chairman.

"The committee could only cast this vote by dividing it now on a prorata of the votes of the other two candidates."

This gave Kitchin about two-thirds of the Onslow Horne vote.

The departed delegate according to the chair, could not in his absence have any further control over this vote.

Dark Horse Prances In.

There was a wild scene in the convention at 1:20 this afternoon, which although likely of small significance in itself, may mean the approach of the final stages of the deadlock. This was the entrance of a new man into the race, Hon. T. W. Mason, of Northampton county. It is significant of this vote that while it is complimentary in a sense, the 10 votes came, 3 1-2 from Craig, 6 3-4 from Kitchin, and one-fourth from Horne. Mr. Mason has taken an active part in former campaigns and was a Senatorial candidate in 1895 and is a prominent man of Eastern Carolina. Probably this accounts for the fact that seven of his votes came from the East, although the shifting of the Horne vote which is getting no little honor as well as satisfaction in its part in the convention, may account largely for the vote. At any rate the introduction of a new man may indicate a growing restlessness for a change of conditions in the convention, a new man, dark horse, or anything to end the deadlock.

Immediately after the introduction of the new signs of "moving on" into the convention keener interest was lent to the proceedings.

When Northampton county's vote was called on the next ballot, however, the vote divided itself among the other candidates, giving Kitchin 6.80 and Craig 3.20. There is no doubt but that Mason's ten votes on the 18th ballot gave somebody a thorough scare and even the audience felt some new emotion not yet experienced since the deadlock began.

A tabulated statement of the balloting during the day is a follows:

This morning Col. Ashley Horne called his supporters together and gave each delegation the liberty, if they so desired, to break away to some other candidate. To a man they pledged the Colonel that they would stand by their guns to the last ditch, there being not a single deflection. This morning to a Chronicle reporter Maj. Stedman denied that he has the remotest idea of being the "dark horse" to ride into the lines of the convention's acceptability. He pledges his allegiance to Kitchin in no uncertain terms.

GLOVER CONVICTED

Found Guilty of Murder in First Degree in Superior Court Yesterday.

ANOTHER CAPITAL FELONY

Tom Wells and Robert Bolton on Trial For Criminal Assault—All Day in Securing Jury—Other Notes.

After remaining out a little less than twenty-four hours, the jury in the case of Sam Glover, colored, charged with the killing of Albert Jones, another negro, in Love's alley, on the evening of the ninth of last September, came into Superior Court at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, the penalty for which is death on the scaffold.

Although no formal motion has as yet been made by the attorneys for the prisoner, it is certain that an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court and the usual methods will be employed in staying the execution. Glover heard his sentence with some little degree of emotion, but it is plain to be seen that he yet has hopes. He is about 35 years of age and is said to have a wife and one or two children. The jury which had the case in hearing was composed of Messrs. Virginius Hall, J. C. McEachin, Martin VanOesen, T. F. McAllister, D. F. Barnes, A. D. Wessell, Jr., L. G. Bass, W. H. Turley, John D. Bowen, J. D. Edwards, G. C Bordeaux and W. R. Hall. The State was represented by Solicitor Duffy and Fred W. Bonitz, Esq.; the prisoner by L. Clayton Grant and Jos. W. Little, Esqs. It is likely that Glover will be brought into court some time today and given the formal death sentence, after which an appeal will be noted. The attorneys for the negro did all in their power for their client, but the evidence adduced at the trial was overwhelmingly against them.

Upon the opening of court yesterday morning several jurors were called out and fined, but later upon valid excuse were relieved of the fine. Juror W. G. Sale who was fined Wednesday had previously been excused and the fine entered against him was in error. The same was true of Juror W. S. Register, the name being W. H. Register.

During the morning hour the grand jury returned a true bill against Katie Hewitt and Fred Walton, the young white couple who in order to hide their shame, had buried secretly the body of an infant born to the young woman. The case will likely not be tried at this term, as the capital felonies will be given the right of way on the docket.

Both a morning and afternoon session of the court was held yesterday, much difficulty having been experienced in selecting a jury to try the cases of Tom Wells and Robert Bolton, the negro roustabouts charged with criminal assault upon Laura Hill, a colored woman, at Hilton Park on a Saturday afternoon about six weeks ago. The case is being prosecuted by Solicitor Duffy, Fred W. Bonitz, Esq., and County Attorney Marsden Bellamy. Messrs. L. Clayton Grant and Jos. W. Little appear for the prisoners. A special venire of 100 had been returned but at 11:30 o'clock these had been exhausted and only five men were in the box. The court ordered the sheriff to summons an additional venire of 30 for 1 P. M. and out of this number three more agreeable to both sides, but four were still lacking and Judge Peebles ordered still another 30 summoned for 3 P. M., court taking a recess in the meantime. Only one man was secured from this number and at 3:45 still another venire of ten and at 4:20 another of 30 were brought into court, the panel being completed about 5 o'clock with the following on the jury: Messrs. H. O. Wallace, Fred Russ, M. M. Woody, W. E. Whilden, W. E. Mayo, E. C. Woodberry, R. T. Windley, Ed Moore, A. H. Zoeller, D. R. Ruark, J. M. Croom and J. Plummer Gilbert.

The colored woman, Laura Hill, was placed on the stand by the State first and she had about completed her testimony when a recess for the day was taken at 6 o'clock until 9 A. M. today.

On Board Kronprinzessin Cecilie.

A member of the Star household has received a very happy "postkarte" greeting from Mr. John G. L. Gieschen, who with a party of prominent Wilmington people arrived this week on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie at Bremen for a tour of the Fatherland. The postkarte carries an excellent photograph of Mr. Gieschen, Mr. M. G. Tiencken, of this city, and Mr. F. Gehrken, of Augusta, Ga., taken on board the fine passenger ship. "No prohibition here" is the significant message, duly approved by all three inscribed on the face of the postal card.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 26.—The purchase money for the North Carolina State building at the Jamestown Exposition was paid over today through Commissioner General Joseph E. Pogue of the North Carolina Jamestown Commission.

Neither the amount or the name of the purchaser was made public. However the statement is made that the amount realized for the building is considerably more nearly in keeping with the cost of the building than have been the sales of most of the other State buildings. It is understood that the purchasers are speculators who hope to "unload" on the government at a profit when it comes to establishing the proposed great naval school on the Jamestown site.

Two dangerous convicts, Arch Woodruff and James Grant, both negroes, have escaped from the State farm in Halifax. Woodruff was serving ten years fom Forsyth for manslaughter and Grant ten years from Iredell for murder in the second degree.

The seventh annual session of the North Carolina Veterinary Medical Association convenes in this city July 2nd for a three days session and the State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners meets in advance on July 1st to examine any applicants for State license to practice. Scarlet Fever Quarantine.

A case of scarlet fever is reported from North Third street, near Walnut street. Complaint was made last night that the quarantine is not enforced strictly and that people are allowed to enter and depart from the residence. Dr. C. T. Harper, superintendent of health, when asked about the matter, said that in scarlet fever cases the patient is isolated and that the yellow card is only displayed as a warning to outsiders not to enter. He said that a strict quarantine as to persons entering and departing from residences is only enforced in cases of smallpox.

Mrs. Strickland's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Olivia A. Strickland, whose death occurred Thursday, was conducted from the residence, No. 1018 North Sixth street, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The remains were laid to rest in Bellevue cemetery. Mr. W. J. Walters, her father, and three brothers of the deceased arrived yesterday morning from Goldsboro and attended the funeral.

Big Occasion for Juniors.

The Fourth of July excursion to Carolina Beach by George Washington and Jeff Davis councils, Jr., O. U. A. M., will prove a day of many events with much interest and pleasure for all who go. A regular programme will be arranged at the next regular meeting of the order and it is already decided that among the features will be several races. It is probable that speeches will be made and a general good time is expected.

Wilmington won from Newbern, two to one, in the twelfth inning yesterday afternoon, after a listless game up to the ninth when, with the score tied, both teams got down to hard work and played fast, snappy ball. Six hundred people saw the game and considered it a rather better exhibition than that given on Thursday afternoon.

Newbern got its lonesome run in the very first inning on an error of Rath at short, allowing S. Yerkes safe on first, sacrifice by Cox, single by Sharp and two base hit to centre by White after Yerkes was thrown out at the home plate, Sharp having the honor of crossing the rubber. At the end of Newbern's half of the first inning, Third Baseman Yerkes was put out of the game for back talk to Umpire VanArman. It is said Yerkes used some language to the "umps" that would not look well in print.

Wilmington scored first on free transportation to Smith, steal to second and a two base hit by Carneal to left field with two men down. The second and winning run in the twelfth was made with only two men down when Doak, first up, made a nice single through second; Captain Smith was safe on a bunt, Rath sacrificed him to third and he came home on the throw in of Carneal's long fly to centre.

The two games here demonstrates beyond peradventure that Newbern has no weak team. The players are handy with the stick and their fielding is perfect. They are to be reckoned with in the pennant chase before the series is half over.

Mr. VanArman, who is holding the indicator here this week, is a man of firmness, clearness of vision and his command of the players on the field is admired by lovers of clean sport.

The Game in Detail.

First Inning—Newbern at the bat and S. Yerkes was safe on error of short, who made a beastly throw to first; Cox sacrificed; Sharp hit to right and Yerkes was thrown out at home; White hit to centre for two bases and Sharp scored; C. Yerkes fouled out to first. One run, two hits and one error. C. Yerkes was put out of the game for talking back to the umpire. Sharp went to short; Crowley to second base, Borden right field; Ferguson to centre field. Wilmington: Flynn out short to first; Hoey was out pitcher to first; Kite singled to centre; Doak fouled out to third no runs, one hit.

Second Inning—Ferguson flew out to centre; Crowley out short to first; Smith out short to first. No runs, no hits. Wilmington: Smith drew a pass; Rath up and Smith stole second; Rath flew to second; Carneal hit to left for two bases and Smith scored; Jayes out short to first; Bussey out pitcher to first. One run, one hit.

Third Inning—Warwick fanned; Borden fanned; Cox singled but was out attempting to steal second with Sharp at the bat. No runs, one hit. Wilmington: Flynn out pitcher to first; Hoey out third to first; Kite out second to first.

Fourth Inning—Shorp flew to right and was out on nice catch by Doak; White out short to first; C. Yerkes was safe on error of Smith; Ferguson up and Yerkes out a mile at second on beautiful throw of Kite to short. No runs, no hit, one error. Wilmington: Doak up and out short to first; Smith ballooned to left; Rath fanned. No runs, no hits.

Fourth Inning—Sharp flew to right second; Crowley hit to pitcher and was safe at second on error of short; Ferguson was safe on third; Smith fouled out to third; Warwick to second base and on pretty play, Carneal, Kite, Ferguson was out at home; Borden was out pitcher to first. No runs, one hit and one error. Wilmington: Carneal out third to first; Jayes walked; Bussey up and Smith safe on slide to second; Bussey sacrificed; Flynn drew a pass and Hoey was presented with the opportunity of his life but the best he could do was to pop out to catcher after two

GROVER CLEVELAND.

The Washington Post, non-partisan and non-political, one of the fairest papers in the whole country, in announcing Mr. Cleveland's death thus speaks of him editorially:

"Mr. Cleveland had the distinction of being the only Democrat elected to the Presidential office since the civil war. He was also the only man who ever ran for the Presidency three times in succession, and was twice elected, with a defeat sandwiched between his two terms. Since his retirement to private life the conservatives of his own party have looked upon his counsels as the words of the oracle, while the bitterest of his political antagonists have heard him with respect.

"Mr. Cleveland was a strong man. His was a vigorous policy as an executive, which, while it made him strong friends, could not fail to make for him equally powerful enemies. He possessed the courage of his convictions, however, and sturdily conducted national affairs as he conceived they should be conducted. Both his terms in office were filled with matters of great importance in the development of the nation. It is a noteworthy fact that our difficulties with Venezuela, which first became of international importance during Mr. Cleveland's second administration, should have resulted in the breaking of all diplomatic relations between this country and the South American Republic during the very last hours of Mr. Cleveland's life. His rigid application of the Monroe doctrine in the boundary dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela came nearer to leading us into war with England than anything else in our history since the Alabama affair.

"As a man Mr. Cleveland was sturdy, conscientious, and a lover of outdoor life. As a statesman and politician he was calm in judgment, conservative in speech, and broad minded in his consideration of national matters. History may have much to criticise in his two administrations of the republic's affairs, but it will find much to commend also."

From the Baltimore Sun's editorial on the dead ex-President we take the following:

"It was unfortunate for the Democratic party that Mr. Cleveland had enemies in his own party even more rancorous than his Republican opponents. It may have been that he lacked tact at times, but the differences between this sturdy President and certain Senators and others of his own political faith apparently went much deeper than a feeling growing out of mere tactlessness or self-assertiveness. Mr. Cleveland, it was said, could never be moved from any line of action which he had convinced himself to be right. It was not very surprising, after all, that he should come into conflict with Senators of the "very practical" type who represented New York. Maryland and New Jersey during his administrations. Mr. Cleveland was a politician who believed in organization and all honorable methods to achieve party victory. He never pretended to be a statesman of so exalted a type that he must hold aloof from the men who organize political victories, who carry on campaigns of education, who get out the vote by legitimate means. In his early days in Buffalo Mr. Cleveland was an energetic and resourceful party man. But he had little in common with the "Senators from Havemeyer" and the "Senators from Rockefeller" who blocked the reforms to which the Democratic party was solemnly pledged. Mr. Cleveland was honest to the core. He believed that a pledge was not to be lightly ignored. His sympathies and his convictions were in accord with those of that able and high-minded Democratic statesman, the late William L. Wilson, of West Virginia. For Mr. Wilson President Cleveland had sincere admiration and respect. The men were of entirely different types, but they were as one in their honesty and their loyalty.

"While Mr. Cleveland had nothing in common with Democratic Senators from Havemeyer and Rockefeller, it seems strange that he should not have received the loyal support of most of the Senators from the South. There were Southern Senators, men of strong convictions, men of integrity, who had no tariff axes to grind, who ought to have been staunch allies and unwavering supporters of the first Democratic President since Buchanan. Yet Mr. Cleveland did not get their support in the measure in which he was entitled to it."

THE KERN BOOM.

The Democrats of the East and South would like to know on what grounds National Committeeman Taggart places the claims of Kern, of Indiana, for the nomination to second place on the National ticket. If the West is to have the Presidential candidate the second place surely should go to some other section. Mr. Gern is not such a popular man or one of such great reputation and standing before the whole country that the ordinary rule of selecting the two candidates from different sections of the country should be broken for his benefit. Few people in the party know who Mr. Kern is or have ever heard of him. We suppose Mr. Taggart wants him nominated because he thinks his name on the ticket would add strength to the same in the State of Indiana. A more important requisite we take it, is his fitness for the office and for the still higher one he might possibly be called on to fill were he elected to the former. We do not believe in the present-day idea of nominating a man for second place on a ticket solely on his ability to add strength to the ticket in certain sections of the country. When a party stoops to such measures it loses its high ideals, abandons its principles and becomes a party of spoils advocates and pie counter hunters. Our idea is to nominate men who represent the principles of the party.

WILMINGTON FOR SUMMER PLEASURE SEEKERS.

The extreme heat of the last few days has moderated to quite an extent in this section, though it is quite hot yet. The weather bureau report for the twenty-four hours ending at 8 o'clock yesterday morning for points in Eastern North Carolina, showed somewhat lower temperatures than for the last few days. The highest temperatures for the time were at Florence and Weldon, where the mercury registered 96 degrees. Lumberton came next with 95, then were Goldsboro and Newbern with 94. Wilmington was at the bottom of the list with a maximum temperature of only 84 degrees. The average for the district was 90.8. This shows what a splendid summer climate Wilmington has. These temperature reports should attract the attention of people of the interior section who are looking for a pleasant place for their summer outing. The table shows that Wilmington is the coolest place in all eastern sections of the Carolinas in this hot season of the year. In addition, there is the delightful beach with its comfortable hotels and boarding houses, the most charming place for summer outing in the South Atlantic coast.

OUT OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS ALREADY.

It seems remarkable that the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee should be begging for campaign funds before the party's candidate has been nominated. The excuse given by the chairman of the committee is that the campaign has been opened much earlier than usual this year. We really cannot see how the campaign can be opened and run on an expensive scale before the party has chosen a candidate and leader of the campaign. It must be that so much fuss has been made about campaign contributions that the Democratic party leaders find themselves hampered in the outset by scarcity of funds and are uneasy over the outlook for money to keep the thing going until November. It is hard to believe that any large amount of money has been spent this early in the election year. It bodes ill for the party exchequer if it is empty at the beginning of the contest.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The Greensboro Record is moved to remark: "If Wade Harris, of The Charlotte Chronicle, succeeds in nominating Ashley Horne he should be given a place in Bryan's cabinet." Wouldn't accept the honor. Besides, Colonel Bryan isn't going to have a cabinet.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—The New York American says that the only Republican promises that will be kept are those made by the bosses of the Chicago convention to the predatory gentlemen who furnish the campaign funds. We do not often agree with the American, but on this point there is no room for difference of opinion. Such promises as these are the only ones the Republican party has ever lived up to (these it has kept to the letter), and there is no prospect of a reformation at this late day.—Virginian-Pilot.

—"The Springfield Republican," which cherishes a kindly feeling toward Mr. Bryan, is moved by his two recent outgivings upon the Republican platform to judicious grief over what it regards as his weakness for talking too much. "The question arises whether Mr. Bryan is not 'too frequent' in such public appearances." His position as leader of his party and its prospective candidate "calls for the maintenance of dignified reticence and deliberation of utterance." "The Republican" notes that among sober minded persons Mr. Bryan "somehow fails to inspire great confidence when mentioned in relation to the Presidency," and it asks if the explanation is not to be found in his "extreme loquacity." The trouble with this suggestion is that the Democratic leader is inseparable from his loquacity. A silent Bryan, even a Bryan addicted to a dignified reticence, would be an unthinkable paradox, something like a "sane Fourth," to be precise.—New York Tribune.

—Politics is a great game. In blistering hot June weather between 5,000 and 6,000 people sit by day and continuously through the night to sunrise in a hall that despite half a hundred electric fans, fairly steams with heat. These people leave the hall for breakfast, but instead of going to bed to recoup their vitality they prefer to sit about the hotels and stand on the streets and discuss the one living topic of the day—politics! Then these same people pile into the convention hall again at noon, ready to sit out the afternoon and the night, too, if necessary. They have no thought of rest. The tonic of politics banishes weariness. It is not so much of a wonder that young and robust men can stand such an ordeal, but the convention is full of gray-haired men, men who would drop dead at the prospect of being set to work chopping half a cord of wood, yet here they go sleepless day and night and never squeal. Yes, a wonderfully fascinating thing is the game of politics!—Charlotte Chronicle.

—The record of the human beings killed and wounded by railroads in a single year in the United States far passes the slaughter in battle in the time in any of the wars in which the United States has been engaged with the single exception of the War of Secession in 1861-65. According to the report made by the Inter-State Commerce Commission for 1907, the railway casualties for that year were: Killed, 10,618, and wounded, 97,706, the numbers of the injured being eleven times greater than the killed. This is a frightful loss of life growing out of the operation of railroads used only for the peaceful transportation of commercial products and passengers, and the strangest thing about it is the matter-of-course indifference with which the fact is accepted, and the little that is done to protect all these human lives, and prevent the enormous destruction which attends our railroad operation. It is true the National Government through Congress has enacted laws requiring the use of an automatic car coupler, and another law has shortened the hours of railroad workers, but these facts appear to have done little to abate the slaughter.—New Orleans Picayune.

—It is tremendously amusing to note the glee which some northern newspapers old enough and bright enough to know better descant on the probability of pulling Tennessee over into the Republican column this November just because General Luke Wright has seen fit to dump his party and take a cabinet portfolio for the few months. The appointment of General Wright to the War secretaryship, which, according to the Memphis man's own statement, he does not expect to hold in the event of Taft's election, will, of course, be exceedingly gratifying to the political and personal friends of General Wright in that State, but it is not likely to change enough votes in Tennessee to fill a jury box. General Wright and his cronies will doubtless vote the Republican ticket in November—it is openly charged that the general bolted Mr. Bryan both times and in 1904 did not come out for Judge Parker, but the State of Tennessee will not hand its electoral vote to Taft on the strength of the Wright appointment. A man who is known to have voted for Palmer and Buckner in 1896 and for McKinley and Roosevelt in 1900 will not make many converts to the Republican ranks in any Southern State.—Raleigh Times.

The Power Of a Smile.

[Original.]

"Grandma," said a boy of six, "what's that stunt you did in the war?"

"My stunt, as you call it, was a dismal failure, though success was within my grasp. I was a southern girl on my father's plantation in Tennessee. One morning a Federal general and his staff rode up to our house and asked for breakfast. I was so bitter against them that I would have given them nothing, but mother had better sense. She gave them all they asked. They didn't leave us for a week. Where the general's troops were we didn't know, and since he wouldn't permit any of us to leave the plantation we naturally inferred that he wished to keep the Federal movements secret. One young fellow, an aid-de-camp, seeing me scowling all the while at him and his fellows, kept constantly joking me, trying to make me laugh. He had the sweetest smile in the world, and, although the more he persisted, the more I scowled, still from the first I was madly in love with him. I had never seen much of city people, and his refinement, his manly beauty and his military dress readily overcame my country girl's heart.

"The general established an office in the next room to mine, with nothing between but a board partition. One day I heard him dictating a dispatch which I knew to be of great importance. It occurred to me to take the information to our southern commander of the district, but I couldn't remember enough of it to make the journey worth the while. That afternoon I saw the aid coming out of the general's office, putting an envelope in his pocket, call for his horse and ride away. I mounted my Madge and rode after him.

In time I caught up with him and called to him. He turned and, seeing me, gave me one of those smiles that had won my heart. But I was determined nothing should interfere with my purpose, which was to get his dispatch from him and deliver it to our general. He asked me what I wished, and I said I had something to tell him. He rode up beside me. I had formed no plan and didn't know what to say or do. Seeing water trickling across the road, I told him I was thirsty. We left the road for a little distance to go to a spring, where we both dismounted. He plucked a large leaf and, folding it into a cup, stooped to get me some water. Quick as a flash I snatched his revolver from its holster at his hip. He turned to see me standing with it pointed at him.

He thought it a bit of pleasantry and laughed at me; but, assuming all the steadiness of which I was capable, I demanded his dispatch. He only laughed the more. If he had made a move for resistance or talked harshly to me I might have had the heart to kill him, for I realized the importance to my people of securing the paper. But he stood there looking at me with that amused imperturbable smile, and it was the worst thing for my object he could have done. Then I braced myself for a desperate move and fired a bullet within a few inches of his ear.

"'Try again,' he laughed. 'Aim for the center of my forehead.'

"I put another ball so near the other ear that I was frightened for fear I had hit him.

"'That's better,' he said, still unruffled. 'The next shot will do the job.'

"Then we both heard the tread of horses' hoofs up the road. We stood still, listening, and soon knew that horsemen were coming our way. My enemy for the first time looked serious.

"'If they're Confederates you've got me,' he said, for once without a smile.

"My heart was beating wildly. Suppose they were Confederates. They would secure my getting the dispatch, but they would capture the messenger. If they were Confederate citizens or guerrillas perhaps they would shoot him. Notwithstanding the importance of the information to be secured I felt that I could not turn him over, with the frightful risk that course involved. It was only one life among the many to be sacrificed in the struggle, but I couldn't sacrifice it, even for southern independence. But I resolved that if the coming horsemen proved to be Confederate soldiers I would call to them. If they were Federals my stunt, as you call it, was a failure.

"My enemy and I were so far hidden by trees that we were not likely to be noticed, but we could see the road through openings. We stood waiting silently for the result. Nearer came the horsemen, and we could hear a clanking of sabers that told us they were cavalry. Only one alternative remained. They were either Federal or Confederate. Then suddenly the stars and bars emerged into view. I had won.

"I turned to my enemy. He smiled at me. Not a bit of reproach, simply a smile. I turned to the Confederates and tried to call. I couldn't. Don't ask me whether my voice failed me or my heart failed me or anything else failed me. I simply couldn't.

"In a few seconds the troop had passed.

"It was my surrender. My enemy came up to me fearlessly, confidently (I was still holding a cocked revolver), put his arms about me, and my head fell on his breast. Then he lifted my face and gave me a long kiss on the lips."

The old lady paused. She had finished.

"Was the young officer grandpa?" asked one of the girls.

"How did you guess that, you little minx?" F. A. MITCHEL.

CORONER'S INQUEST

Impossible to Place Responsibility For Death of Young Trunnel.

The coroner's jury empanelled last Tuesday to inquire into the cause of the fatal wounding of Mr. Albert F. Trunnel, which occurred from lockjaw, due to a wound in the face inflicted by unknown parties, held a session yesterday morning at the City Hall and after making a thorough examination into the circumstances were unable to render a verdict placing the crime on any guilty party or parties.

There wee a number of witnesses before the jury but no evidence calculated to furnish a clue could be secured and the few facts presented were about the same as stated in this paper prior to the inquest. The statement of Mr. George Hansley, who it will be recalled, was with Mr. Trunnel on the night of the fatal cutting, set forth in detail what transpired between the victim and the negroes who are alleged to have attacked them in the dark and after rendering them several stabs hurriedly escaped. He corroborated his former statement as to the location of the fight which was directly opposite the Eastern Star hall, the trouble first occurring with the negroes in the vicinity of the carnival grounds, near a cool drink stand. The man who had charge of the latter place related what he knew, this including the few remarks of Mr. Trunnel to the negroes. Others who testified furnished no evidence of any consequence and the jury reached the verdict, "that the deceased, A. F. Trunnel, came to his death as a result of lockjaw, resulting from a stab wound over the left eye, which wound was inflicted by a party, or parties, unknown to the jury." Those who composed the jury were: Messrs J. M. Branch, foreman; J. O. Brown, W. E. Merritt, T. G. Landen, W. M. Cherry, J. W. Hansley.

The death of Mr. Trunnel, it will be recalled, occurred only a few days after the serious cutting, at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. During his illness he was attended by Dr. Morris Caldwell, who was called to his home to dress the wound and he stated to the jury that the first symptoms of lockjaw were presented upon his third visit.

COLORED MAN HURT

George Dove Fell From Steps on Princess Street Yesterday.

A middle-aged colored man, George Washington Dove, met with a rather peculiar and probably serious accident yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock, when he fell down a flight of steps leading to a colored restaurant, on the second floor above Truelove's saloon at the southeast corner of Water and Princess streets. The steps are about fifteen feet high and the victim fell on his head, rendering him unconscious, in which condition he still remained at the hospital last night, probably suffering with concussion of the brain.

The ambulance was called to the scene with Dr. Strosnider and the negro was conveyed to the James Walker Memorial Hospital. The extent of his injuries could not be determined late last night, but it is believed that they are of a serious nature.

Will Succeed Dr. Boyd as Interne at Walker Memorial Hospital.

Dr. John D. Kerr, of Clinton, N. C., who will be interne at the James Walker Memorial Hospital after July 1st, is spending a few days in Wilmington, as the guest of Dr. J. G. Murphy, at the Carolina Apartment House. Dr. Kerr is a promising young physician and will no doubt make many friends in his new position.

Dr. Kerr will succeed Dr. Montague L. Boyd, who recently offered his resignation and will leave the first of the month for the western part of the State where he has decided to locate. He has many Wilmington friends who regret to see him leave and wish for him much success in his new home.

Forfeited Game at Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., June 26.—In midst of the fifth inning of the Raleigh-Goldsboro league game here this afternoon the game was declared forfeited to Raleigh, 9 to 0, by Umpire Shepherd. Fines aggregating $40 were entered against Goldsboro players and Sullivan of that team was ejected from the grounds by a constable by order of the umpire.

The difficulty was precipitated in the first inning when Raleigh had two men on bases and a three-bagger was driven to left field. Goldsboro players claimed to have made a tripple play but the umpire held otherwise. In the wrangle Sullivan shoved his fist into the umpire's face. He was put off the grounds. The Goldsboro team thereafter seemed not to want to play and apparently killed time in the hope threatening clouds would develop rain and end the game. There was a big crowd thoroughly disgusted. Finally the game was declared forfeited.

Governor Glenn was in the grandstand and declared Goldsboro players deserved a good flogging and that he would pardon anybody who would administer it.

Kinston—There was no game here again today with the Wilson champions, rains having interferred.

This One on the "Umphs".

A Lawrence, Mass., paper has the following good one on the umpire which will be appreciated by the Wilmington fans:

"An umpire in a minor game on the Common sprung a new one Saturday that nearly cost him his life. The bases were full, and the batter was given four balls, but as he started to walk to first, the umpire yelled, You're Out. What for? Because I haven't any place to put you, the bases are full, answered the umpire, and you can imagine the rest."

HIS 86TH BIRTHDAY.

The Venerable Mr. B. G. Worth Receives Congratulations of Friends.

The venerable and much beloved, Mr. Barzillai G. Worth, one of Wilmington's oldest and most highly respected citizens, on yesterday celebrated his 86th birthday, receiving informally the happiest congratulations of his friends and in return cheering his friends with some kindly greeting at his hospitable home, No. 206 North Second street. All the children of the family were here except Mrs. J. Weller, of Cincinnati, who found it impossible to come, those present being Mr. Archie Worth, of Creskill, N. J.; Mrs. Geo. R. French, Mr. William E. Worth and Mrs. W. J. Woodward. One son, Mr. Joe B. Worth, of Petersburg, and Mrs. W. G. Herring, of this city, have passed away since attaining their majorities.

Mr. Worth was born in Guilford county and came to Wilmington in 1855, engaging in business first with his brother, Dr. T. C. Worth, who died in 1862 of yellow fever, and later upon the death of the late Green Daniel, with the late Mr. D. G. Worth under the firm name of Worth & Worth. Upon the death of Mr. D. G. Worth he became the senior member of the firm, which is now a corporation, The Worth Company, with Mr. B. G. Worth president and Mr. C. W. Worth, secretary and treasurer and general manager. Notwithstanding his advanced years, Mr. Worth is still actively engaged in business and finds much time to devote to his family and friends, an especially fine garden at his residence being his pride. Mr. Worth has been in better health the past six months than for a long time and the celebration of his 86th birthday yesterday was a source of infinite joy to his friends and members of the devoted family.

Steam Pipe Blew Out.

A steam pipe on the government steamer Mercur at the yards in the southern part of the city blew out yesterday about noon, but inquiry at the office of the United States Engineers' elicited the information that no one was hurt and that the steamer is not damaged. It was reported that several were badly scalded as the result of the explosion but this was in error.

REDUCTION OF WAGES.

Negotiations to That Effect on the Southern Postponed.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

Washington, June 26.—The Southern Railway today announced that the resumption of negotiations looking to a reduction in wages of employes of the Southern Railway outside of Washington has been postponed from July until October 1 next. The 10 per cent. reduction in salaries of officials and employes of the road in the offices in Washington will cease to be applied after July 1 next. The reduction, however, will continue as to the salaries of the president and vice presidents of the road. The negotiations were heretofore suspended from April 1 until July 1 and the negotiations involve the Southern and affiliated lines. President Finley of the Southern Railway Company today made the following statement:

"In view of the demonstrated greater efficiency of labor and its resulting benefits to the companies, and in the hope, and with some expectation, that present business conditions may show an improvement, an understanding has been reached through Martin A. Knapp and Charles P. Hill, the mediators under the Erdman Act, with all classes of employes that were parties to the settlement of April 1, 1908, that there shall be further postponed until October 1, at which time such negotiations may be resumed at the option of the company through the mediators under the Erdman Act.

HELD FOR GRAND JRUY

Charged With Riding on a Railway Free Pass Not Issued to Him.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Roanoke, Va., June 26.—E. M. Crabell, of Roanoke, who was arrested on a warrant sworn out by the Norfolk and Western Railway Company charging him with violating the Hepburn law by riding on an inter-State pass not made out in his name, was given a preliminary hearing today before United States Commissioner White and held for the Federal grand jury. Crabell gave bond in the sum of $500. The warrant charges that Crabell rode on a free pass between Roanoke, Va., and Bluefield, W. Va. Crabell's father, J. H. Crabell, arrested on the same warrant, will have a hearing later.

—Statesville Landmark: The Waynesville Courier, an earnest Craig supporter, thinks that inasmuch as Mr. Craig has been falling behind ever since the publication of Senator Simmons' letter championing his cause, "Mr. Craig may well ask to be delivered from his friends in influential positions." If Mr. Craig is defeated—and the Landmark has an abiding hope that he will not be—the activity of Senator Simmons will be the greatest contributing factor. It is amazing that so astute a politician has permitted himself to be put in such a position, but realizing that Mr. Kitchin's success meant his own undoing two years hence, the Senator evidently couldn't restrain himself. We trust that he will not find that he has helped to bring about, in his zeal to save himself, the very thing he was trying to avoid.

He Got What He Needed.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 50c.

The Hoodoo Ring.

By INA WRIGHT HANSON.

Copyrighted, 1907, by Jessie Morgan.

"Pauline, I love you. Will you marry me or won't you?" I made my little speech desperately, with my eyes shut.

The silence was so long that I opened them to find Pauline with her own eyes shut and her lips moving rapidly, but noiselessly.

"What are you doing?" I inquired as calmly as I was able.

"I was saying the protection charm for lovers," she answered, smiling sweetly at me. "It's lucky for you that you asked me today. No more lucky days for me till the middle of next month."

"Oh, superstition, thy name is Pauline!" I said fondly. No matter what absurd ideas she had, she was the sweetest girl in the world. "Tomorrow I will bring the diamond," I added after awhile.

"Oh, no, please," she answered promptly. "I should rather have a ruby. Rubies exert a special protection in matters of love."

Next day when I entered the only jewelry store the place afforded I was wishing that my Pauline were not so superstitious. Of course I wanted her to be pleased, but diamonds seemed to me the only gems for betrothals.

When I met her in her garden that night I fancied that she looked pale, and when I gave her the box I thought she seemed on the threshold of tears.

"Open it, heart's dearest," I allured, not without some trepidation.

But she put the box up her lace sleeve and began whispering to me of how she was ever prone to hold her pleasures a little while from her until she had tasted anticipation to the full, and she was so wonderfully entrancing that no mortal man could remember such mundane things as metal or brilliants in the soft symphonies of her feeling-swept voice.

But there was a change in my sweet heart after that. I had sometimes chafed over the necessity, when we were starting for somewhere and had only a brief time to get there in and had forgotten something, of being compelled, when we returned for it, to sit down till we had counted fifty, but this Pauline always laughingly insisted on.

Now she treated all signs seriously. She no longer laughed when we spilled the salt. She looked at me with fear in her eyes as she threw a pinch of it into the fire. She sometimes cried when I left her, as though my absence were to be an indefinite thing instead of a time of hours, and when I came to her she often rejoiced, as though I were come from a far country, and through all these days she refused to wear my ring. One night I spoke sharply to her.

"Pauline, take my ring from your sleeve, or the corner of your handkerchief, or your pompadour, or wherever you have concealed it, and put it in its rightful place," I insisted.

"It's in the house," she faltered, looking at me with frightened eyes. "I'll get it."

Returning, she placed the red leather box on the arbor table, and with her face wreathed in tragedy she began to talk.

"I looked at the rings in that store before you went in to get it. There was only one ruby, as you know, and I thought it beautiful, beautiful! I had told the man when I went in that I wasn't going to buy, so he began to talk to me. He said he called the ruby his 'hoodoo ring.' He said a young man bought it first for his girl, but she jilted him before she ever saw the ring, so he brought it back, exchanging it for a diamond scarfpin. Then a man bought it for his daughter's graduation gift, but she died the week before, and he sold it for money to buy the poor child's shroud. Wasn't it dreadful, Harry? Then a mysterious veiled lady said she was going to buy it, but she suddenly disappeared and was never heard of after.

"I went home in a dreadful state of mind. All day I was sending the mental suggestion to you not to buy that ring, but just before closing time I sneaked in to look, and the ruby was gone. I could not bring myself to tell you then that I didn't want it after you had been good enough to please me, for I knew you preferred a diamond, so I said I would forget its history. I compromised with evil and took it, but I have never opened the box."

"You haven't looked at the ring?" I exclaimed.

"No. But just having it in my possession has done such awful things! First my poor kitten ate the poisoned meat, then my best loved vase fell to the floor when no one was near it and broke itself to pieces, I tore my best dress the first time I wore it, and you had the automobile accident."

"But I didn't get hurt," I objected.

"Yes, but it's a warning!" she wailed. "I don't want the ring, and I don't want you to keep it, and it is a shame to make that poor man take it back. Let's bury it somewhere, and you needn't get me another. I will be satisfied without an engagement ring."

Then I laughed. I couldn't restrain myself any longer, and my poor girl's wet eyes looked at me reproachfully. I picked up the box and touched the spring. She gave one long, earnest look at the sparkler, then looked wildly at me.

"Why, it's a diamond!"

I nodded. I could do no more then.

"Is that the ring I have been carrying around or hiding away for two mortal weeks?"

I nodded again, helpless with laughter, and it was not long till Pauline laughed with me. Then she kissed the ring and slipped it on her finger. Next she went to the door of the arbor and looked deliberately at the moon over her left shoulder. Spying a ladder leaning against the wall, she walked under it. A rusty nail showed enticingly in the moonlight, but she did not turn it around. She came back to me, sat down and regarded me gravely.

"I still have an unholy curiosity to know who did buy that ring and what it did to them?" she said mournfully.

"Oh, heart of mine," I crooned, "can it be that you have lived for a whole summer in this place and have yet to learn that that jewelry man is known hereabout as Ananias Jones, although he was christened Henry? He just dotes on talking to pretty girls, and he has quite a genius for story telling. Figuratively speaking, my beloved, he sold you a gold brick."

Pauline sighed and removed her shoes. She placed the high heeled, absurd little articles on the table, regarding them seriously. Then she put them on again, being careful to dress the left foot first.

"There! That's the very worst one of them all," she said in the tone the great man must have used when he had conquered his last world and there were no more of them.

"There's a worse one!" I cried in so mighty a voice that Pauline jumped. "Today week is Friday, the 13th. You wouldn't dare let it be our wedding day?"

I knew it was an unfair advantage, and I was about to take it all back when my blessed girl snuggled herself into my delighted arms.

"I might dare, Harry," she whispered, "but wouldn't you as lief it would be a day sooner?"

—Durham, June 25.—There is a well-defined rumor on the streets that at the next meeting of the aldermen, which is to be held on the first Monday night in next month, an effort wil be made to refuse straightout any and all drug stores the right to sell whiskey on prescription or else to cut the number to one and allow but one drug store to sell booze. At the present time there are three drug stores that sell whiskey on prescriptions, the other stores not even applying for license. The rumor is that the prohibitionists want the number reduced to one or cut out entirely. If this move is made there will probably be a lively tilt.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Newbern Journal: It seems that the wicked in this city have indeed forsaken their evil ways. Maybe the hot weather has a restraining influence. The mayor and magistrates are taking it easy. No cases have been heard before their courts in two or three days.

—Fayetteville Observer: His many friends in the city will learn with pleasure that Father Price will preach in our city Sunday, July 5th, at St. Patrick's Catholic church, morning and night. Father Price used to be here several years ago. His many friends will give him a hearty welcome.

—Pender Chronicle: During the heavy thunder and rain storm last Monday afternoon, lightning struck the residence of Mr. C. Harrell, occupied by his son, Mr. W. R. Harrell, and Mr. Saunders. It struck the chimney, tearing it up pretty badly, and doing some other damage to the building, but fortunately no one was hurt.

—Fairmont Messenger: Ex-Sheriff Geo. B. McLeod announces himself a candidate as Senator from this county. We have no doubt that Mr. McLeod is better known than any other man in Robeson County, so well known it is useless for us to say more at this time, other than that we are very glad to publish his announcement.

—Kinston Free Press: During a thunderstorm at noon today a bolt of lightning struck the telephone wires at Winterville and running along the wires exploded in the Moseley Hardware store. Mr. Moseley who was in the store at the time was severely shocked and at first was thought to have been killed, but was brought around all right by a physician in attendance.

—Charlotte Observer: Major C. H. Gattis, of Raleigh, lingers around the city looking after the interests of the Seaboard Air Line which rolled into Charlotte a host of delegates to the convention. Mr. Gattis is holding the special train here consisting of 17 Pullman cars for the delegates and visitors from the East, and promises them that equally as good accommodation will be provided on the return trip.

—Wadesboro Messenger: The friends of Professor Jerome Dowd, of Charlotte, are urging him for the presidency of the A. & M. College. Professor Dowd has taught at Trinity College, the University of Wisconsin, and the University of Oklahoma, and is now engaged in writing a sociological study of mankind from the standpoint of race. We have no doubt he would make a very fine president of the A. & M.

—Charlotte Observer: A big rawboned bay horse belonging to a negro by the name of Winyah Knox became frightened at an approaching automobile out on the Providence road late yesterday afternoon and fell dead in its tracks. The two colored women in the buggy, when they saw the horse rear up in the shafts and keel over, hopped out remarking, "Didn't we have a narrow escape," which is construed to mean that they also came near being frightened to death.

—Tarboro Southerner: With the announcement in the Southerner two weeks ago, that the school board was contemplating the erection of a $30,000 building for Tarboro, a flood of letters from bonding companies and architects and contractors has been received by both Mayor Jones and J. A. Weddell. Evidently these parties forget that before any definite plans will be decided upon, the Legislature must pass a special act and the citizens vote upon the question of issuing bonds.

—Charlotte Observer: The Southern Railway will operate special trains for the transportation home of the delegates and other attendants on the sessions of the State convention, just as it operated them to bring them here. One will run from Charlotte to Greensboro, Durham, Raleigh and Goldsboro, handling Pullman cars and day coaches. Another will run to Asheville by the way of Statesville, handling Pullman cars and day coaches. Both trains will leave Charlotte two hours after the Democratic convention takes final adjournment. This may be Christmas. If so, the cars will be properly heated and the engines equipped with snow plows.

—Fayetteville Observer: If every county in the good Old North State had sent as many delegates to the convention as Cumberland, there could not have been found a city in the South large enough to accommodate them. Cumberland never does anything by halves, especially things of a political nature. The three candidates for Governor, Horne, Craig and Kitchin, will each get as loyal support from their friends of the Cumberland delegation as from any other county in the State. Cumberland county Democrats are noted for their loyalty to their friends before the nominations are made and are no less true to the Democratic ticket after the convention is over, whether they get their favorite man on the ticket or not. This principle is what makes the Democratic party great, and without it there could be no great party.

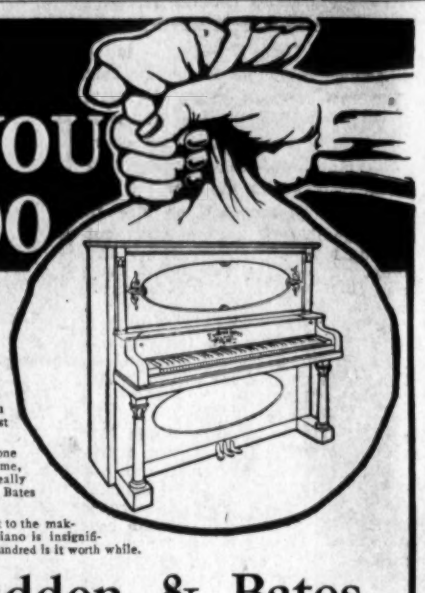
WE GIVE YOU $113.00



You really get that much piano value free by joining our club now forming. Our wonderful club plan of piano selling makes it easier to own a piano than to want for one. You can join a club and have a magnificent piano sent to your home at once. You have the use and enjoyment of it while you are paying for it in little sums as the club matures. In a short time you own a beautiful piano that would cost you not less than $400 anywhere else.

By making and selling in lots of one hundred instead of a single piano at a time, we can furnish our members with a really genuine $400 New Scale Ludden & Bates Piano for $287—a cash saving of $113.

Of course, there is but little profit to the makers at this price. The profit on one piano is insignificant—only by forming a club of one hundred is it worth while.

is a strictly high-grade instrument with its price made moderate by our club plan. A written guarantee for a lifetime. Has special copper-wound and steel strings throughout. Full cabinet grand, balanced scale, as perfect as skill can make it. Double repeating action, with light even touch. Genuine ivory keys. Beautiful cases of fancy walnut, mahogany or oak, lined throughout with bird's-eye maple. Tone full and rich, with that peculiar "singing" quality found only in the highest grade of pianos.

In case of the death of the head of the family we cancel the club contract and make you an outright present of the unpaid balance. The piano then belongs to you absolutely. This free life insurance has allowed the completion of many a musical education, and is worth your consideration. It is practically an assurance that you will not lose your piano through inability to pay does.

Write us at once for an application blank and complete description of different styles of finish. In this way you can make a selection that will delight you. You can leave the question of tone to us. We will see that you get a perfect Instrument. A well made, attractive stool and a beautiful scarf go with each piano. Write for full information of the club that is now forming.

BUG DEATH

One of the great growers of seed potatoes in Maine who has made a life study of Irish potatoes, has demonstrated beyond question that it is impossible to apply Paris Green to potato vines in any quantity without weakening the vitality of the tuber. Bug Death will not injure the plant but will stimulate its growth. It will not wash off, it is perfectly harmless to animals and people, and has a wonderful power to prevent blight, rust and those diseases so generally prevalent among melons and vegetables.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 26.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular during today's session with the close steady net 9 points lower to 3 points higher. Sales were estimated at 125,000 bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 9 points to an advance of 2 points, new months being relatively easy under July notices while later positions were sustained by steady cables and Wall street covering notwithstanding good weather and crop reports. July notices were estimated at about 20,000 bales and after some little irregularity the market eased off under scattering liquidation which seemed to be promoted by the circulation among commission houses. July sold off to 9.78 during the middle session while August touched 9.72 or 14 to 17 points net lower, but the new crop showed remarkable steadiness, and at the lowest ruled within 2 or 3 points of last night's finals. Later the market rallied on covering and support from spot houses and while closing prices were 4 to 9 points lower on the near months October and later positions showed slight gains. After 2 o'clock when resolutions in memory of ex-President Cleveland were passed there was comparatively little business and at no time during the day was trading active or general. A private report issued by a Wall Street house placed the condition at 83.6 against the government's report of 79.7 last month. July notices were said to have been finally stopped by spot people.

Receipts at the ports today were 5,692 bales against 6,470 last week and 5,078 last year. For the week 50,000 bales against 48,723 last week and 27,984 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,208 bales against 797 last year and at Houston 2,117 bales against 77 lst year.

New York, June 26.—Spot cotton closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands 11.60; middling gulf 11.85; no sales. Futures opened and closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 26.—The dry goods market was fairly steady for the day Cotton yarns are firm and a fair business is passing. Large orders for staple prints are coming forwad. The export inquiry is fairly well maintained but it is for small lots.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 26.—The decision to pay tribute to the memory of ex-President Cleveland by ending the stock exchange session at 1 o'clock today served to further curtail the already shrunken proportions of the dealings in stocks. The session was insignificant in every way Fluctuations in prices were narrow and shifting in an uncertain manner. The redundant condition of the money market gives promise of being increased by the week's continued inflow of cash to New York and borrowing terms are so easy as to offer no urgency to holders of securities to realize on them. At the same time demand for securities is well nigh stagnant. The market, in consequence, is almost deadlock. Cessation of the pressure against the Rock Island issues relieved the market from a depression factor, and contributed to the firmer tone. The only semblance of activity was just at the close when prices enjoyed an uplift that placed a half dozen of the leaders a point or more over last night's closing.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,184,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today were 207,300 shares.

DUNN & CO'S. TRADE REVIEW.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 26.—R. G. Dun & Co's. Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Mid-summer quiet is augmented this year by the general contraction that has occurred in all departments o ftrade and industry, but splendid progress of the crops strengthens confidence in the future and preparation for a large volume of fall business is gradually increasing the percentage of active machinery. Erratic fluctuations in prices of raw material retarded improvement in the cotton goods industry, but the recent sharp advance in hides and leather on account of small receipts of cattle failed to check progress at shoe factories and a fair tonnage of new business is received by the steel mills.

Semi-annual clearance sales of drygoods were well attended, country merchants replenishing depleted stocks at satisfactory prices and reports from all sections of the country testify to a good distribution of light weight wearing apparel. Idle freight cars have been reduced to less than 350,000 and many railroad shops are resuming repair work.

The combination of conservative buying and violent fluctuations in raw cotton precludes the development of any definite tendency and prices of cotton goods in the primary market are also affected by terms at clearance sales. Export business is light, the past week bringing some orders from China, but the curtaliment at Lancashire mills testifies to the lack of demand from the far East. Early duplicate orders for men's wear woolens have been completed, and no additional business is expected until clothiers' salesmen secure further contracts.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Newbern Journal: It seems that the wicked in this city have indeed forsaken their evil ways. Maybe the hot weather has a restraining influence. The mayor and magistrates are taking it easy. No cases have been heard before their courts in two or three days.

—Fayetteville Observer: His many friends in the city will learn with pleasure that Father Price will preach in our city Sunday, July 5th, at St. Patrick's Catholic church, morning and night. Father Price used to be here several years ago. His many friends will give him a hearty welcome.

—Pender Chronicle: During the heavy thunder and rain storm last Monday afternoon, lightning struck the residence of Mr. C. Harrell, occupied by his son, Mr. W. R. Harrell, and Mr. Saunders. It struck the chimney, tearing it up pretty badly, and doing some other damage to the building, but fortunately no one was hurt.

—Fairmont Messenger: Ex-Sheriff Geo. B. McLeod announces himself a candidate as Senator from this county. We have no doubt that Mr. McLeod is better known than any other man in Robeson County, so well known it is useless for us to say more at this time, other than that we are very glad to publish his announcement.

—Kinston Free Press: During a thunderstorm at noon today a bolt of lightning struck the telephone wires at Winterville and running along the wires exploded in the Moseley Hardware store. Mr. Moseley who was in the store at the time was severely shocked and at first was thought to have been killed, but was brought around all right by a physician in attendance.

—Charlotte Observer: Major C. H. Gattis, of Raleigh, lingers around the city looking after the interests of the Seaboard Air Line which rolled into Charlotte a host of delegates to the convention. Mr. Gattis is holding the special train here consisting of 17 Pullman cars for the delegates and visitors from the East, and promises them that equally as good accommodation will be provided on the return trip.

—Wadesboro Messenger: The friends of Professor Jerome Dowd, of Charlotte, are urging him for the presidency of the A. & M. College. Professor Dowd has taught at Trinity College, the University of Wisconsin, and the University of Oklahoma, and is now engaged in writing a sociological study of mankind from the standpoint of race. We have no doubt he would make a very fine president of the A. & M.

—Charlotte Observer: A big rawboned bay horse belonging to a negro by the name of Winyah Knox became frightened at an approaching automobile out on the Providence road late yesterday afternoon and fell dead in its tracks. The two colored women in the buggy, when they saw the horse rear up in the shafts and keel over, hopped out remarking, "Didn't we have a narrow escape," which is construed to mean that they also came near being frightened to death.

—Tarboro Southerner: With the announcement in the Southerner two weeks ago, that the school board was contemplating the erection of a $30,000 building for Tarboro, a flood of letters from bonding companies and architects and contractors has been received by both Mayor Jones and J. A. Weddell. Evidently these parties forget that before any definite plans will be decided upon, the Legislature must pass a special act and the citizens vote upon the question of issuing bonds.

—Charlotte Observer: The Southern Railway will operate special trains for the transportation home of the delegates and other attendants on the sessions of the State convention, just as it operated them to bring them here. One will run from Charlotte to Greensboro, Durham, Raleigh and Goldsboro, handling Pullman cars and day coaches. Another will run to Asheville by the way of Statesville, handling Pullman cars and day coaches. Both trains will leave Charlotte two hours after the Democratic convention takes final adjournment. This may be Christmas. If so, the cars will be properly heated and the engines equipped with snow plows.

—Fayetteville Observer: If every county in the good Old North State had sent as many delegates to the convention as Cumberland, there could not have been found a city in the South large enough to accommodate them. Cumberland never does anything by halves, especially things of a political nature. The three candidates for Governor, Horne, Craig and Kitchin, will each get as loyal support from their friends of the Cumberland delegation as from any other county in the State. Cumberland county Democrats are noted for their loyalty to their friends before the nominations are made and are no less true to the Democratic ticket after the convention is over, whether they get their favorite man on the ticket or not. This principle is what makes the Democratic party great, and without it there could be no great party.

You really get that much piano value free by joining our club now forming. Our wonderful club plan of piano selling makes it easier to own a piano than to want for one. You can join a club and have a magnificent piano sent to your home at once. You have the use and enjoyment of it while you are paying for it in little sums as the club matures. In a short time you own a beautiful piano that would cost you not less than $400 anywhere else.

By making and selling in lots of one hundred instead of a single piano at a time, we can furnish our members with a really genuine $400 New Scale Ludden & Bates Piano for $287—a cash saving of $113.

Of course, there is but little profit to the makers at this price. The profit on one piano is insignificant—only by forming a club of one hundred is it worth while.

is a strictly high-grade instrument with its price made moderate by our club plan. A written guarantee for a lifetime. Has special copper-wound and steel strings throughout. Full cabinet grand, balanced scale, as perfect as skill can make it. Double repeating action, with light even touch. Genuine ivory keys. Beautiful cases of fancy walnut, mahogany or oak, lined throughout with bird's-eye maple. Tone full and rich, with that peculiar "singing" quality found only in the highest grade of pianos.

In case of the death of the head of the family we cancel the club contract and make you an outright present of the unpaid balance. The piano then belongs to you absolutely. This free life insurance has allowed the completion of many a musical education, and is worth your consideration. It is practically an assurance that you will not lose your piano through inability to pay dues.

Write us at once for an application blank and complete description of different styles of finish. In this way you can make a selection that will delight you. You can leave the question of tone to us. We will see that you get a perfect Instrument. A well made, attractive stool and a beautiful scarf go with each piano. Write for full information of the club that is now forming.

BUG DEATH

One of the great growers of seed potatoes in Maine who has made a life study of Irish potatoes, has demonstrated beyond question that it is impossible to apply Paris Green to potato vines in any quantity without weakening the vitality of the tuber. Bug Death will not injure the plant but will stimulate its growth. It will not wash off, it is perfectly harmless to animals and people, and has a wonderful power to prevent blight, rust and those diseases so generally prevalent among melons and vegetables.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 26.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular during today's session with the close steady net 9 points lower to 3 points higher. Sales were estimated at 125,000 bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 9 points to an advance of 2 points, new months being relatively easy under July notices while later positions were sustained by steady cables and Wall street covering notwithstanding good weather and crop reports. July notices were estimated at about 20,000 bales and after some little irregularity the market eased off under scattering liquidation which seemed to be promoted by the circulation among commission houses. July sold off to 9.78 during the middle session while August touched 9.72 or 14 to 17 points net lower, but the new crop showed remarkable steadiness, and at the lowest ruled within 2 or 3 points of last night's finals. Later the market rallied on covering and support from spot houses and while closing prices were 4 to 9 points lower on the near months October and later positions showed slight gains. After 2 o'clock when resolutions in memory of ex-President Cleveland were passed there was comparatively little business and at no time during the day was trading active or general. A private report issued by a Wall Street house placed the condition at 83.6 against the government's report of 79.7 last month. July notices were said to have been finally stopped by spot people.

Receipts at the ports today were 5,692 bales against 6,470 last week and 5,078 last year. For the week 50,000 bales against 48,723 last week and 27,984 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,208 bales against 797 last year and at Houston 2,117 bales against 77 lst year.

New York, June 26.—Spot cotton closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands 11.60; middling gulf 11.85; no sales. Futures opened and closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 26.—The dry goods market was fairly steady for the day Cotton yarns are firm and a fair business is passing. Large orders for staple prints are coming forwad. The export inquiry is fairly well maintained but it is for small lots.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

New York, June 26.—The decision to pay tribute to the memory of ex-President Cleveland by ending the stock exchange session at 1 o'clock today served to further curtail the already shrunken proportions of the dealings in stocks. The session was insignificant in every way Fluctuations in prices were narrow and shifting in an uncertain manner. The redundant condition of the money market gives promise of being increased by the week's continued inflow of cash to New York and borrowing terms are so easy as to offer no urgency to holders of securities to realize on them. At the same time demand for securities is well nigh stagnant. The market, in consequence, is almost deadlock. Cessation of the pressure against the Rock Island issues relieved the market from a depression factor, and contributed to the firmer tone. The only semblance of activity was just at the close when prices enjoyed an uplift that placed a half dozen of the leaders a point or more over last night's closing.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,184,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today were 207,300 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

Sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers bills at 4.87 for demand and at 4.8565 for sixty day bills; commercial bills 4.85 1-8 to 4.85 1-4. Bar silver 54 1-2. Mexican dollars 46.

DUNN & CO'S. TRADE REVIEW.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 26.—R. G. Dun & Co's. Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Mid-summer quiet is augmented this year by the general contraction that has occurred in all departments o ftrade and industry, but splendid progress of the crops strengthens confidence in the future and preparation for a large volume of fall business is gradually increasing the percentage of active machinery. Erratic fluctuations in prices of raw material retarded improvement in the cotton goods industry, but the recent sharp advance in hides and leather on account of small receipts of cattle failed to check progress at shoe factories and a fair tonnage of new business is received by the steel mills.

Semi-annual clearance sales of drygoods were well attended, country merchants replenishing depleted stocks at satisfactory prices and reports from all sections of the country testify to a good distribution of light weight wearing apparel. Idle freight cars have been reduced to less than 350,000 and many railroad shops are resuming repair work.

The combination of conservative buying and violent fluctuations in raw cotton precludes the development of any definite tendency and prices of cotton goods in the primary market are also affected by terms at clearance sales. Export business is light, the past week bringing some orders from China, but the curtailment at Lancashire mills testifies to the lack of demand from the far East. Early duplicate orders for men's wear woolens have been completed, and no additional business is expected until clothiers' salesmen secure further contracts.

SUMMER PLANS OF TAFT FAMILY

The Permanent Breaking Up of Their House-Keeping in Washington City.

VIRGINA HOT SPRINGS

To be Home of Mr. and Mrs. Taft For the Summer—National Committeemen to Meet Him There For Consultation.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 26.—Secretary and Mrs. Taft will close their home in this city within the next two weeks and, accompanied by the younger son Charles, will go to Hot Springs, Va., for the Summer. Miss Helen Taft will visit in the South before joining her parents in Hot Springs, while Robert, the older son, will spend his vacation in Murray Bay, Canada, where the Taft family have gone for many years to spend the summer months.

Mrs. Taft and Charles arrived here from New Haven, Conn., tonight and were driven to the Taft home on K. street. There the household goods are being packed in readiness for leaving the house which Mr. Taft has occupied since he became secretary of war in February 1904. His lease expires in October next and when he leaves to go to Hot Springs he will not return to the K. street house. Mrs. Taft said today that she will leave with the Secretary and Charles for Hot Spring as soon as Mr. Taft's engagements permit, probably in the next ten days.

If the sub-committee of the Republican National committee meets on July 8, as has been announced, to confer with Sec. Taft in regard to the election of a national chairman and on other matters they probably will have to go to Hot Springs, as it is the present plan for Mr. Taft to be at that resort on that date. The nominee will go to Cincinnati later to receive the official notification from the nomination committee of his nomination at Chicago. Mrs. Taft will be joined by the Secretary in Washington early next week and they will leave for the Virginia resort as soon as possible thereafter.

VERMONT DEMOCRATS.

State Convention Tables Resolution of Instructions for Bryan—Platform.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Burlington, Vt., June 26.—The State Democratic Convention adjourned tonight after an animated session devoted to the election of delegates to the National Convention at Denver, the nomination of candidates for State offices and the adoption of a platform. A resolution instructing the delegates to vote for W. J. Bryan for nomination for President was tabled by a vote of 193 to 37 after a lively debate.

Demand is made that the general and State Governments enact laws forbidding campaign contributions by corporations "above a reasonable minimum" and that "in dealing with corporations even the Federal remedies against monopolies "shall be added to and not substituted for State remedies."

The platform favors the "strengthening of the inter-State commerce law to accomplish its constitutional purpose with legislation along the same line by the State," an income tax, a postal savings bank, and laws for the better regulation of banks for the protection of bank deposits.

The Aldrich-Vreeland act is condemned as "a makeshift unjust and unreasonable in its terms and provisions, in the interest of the money power.

Election of United States Senators by direct vote, the eight-hour day and an employer's liability law are favored, and demand is made for "such modification of the law relating to injunctions as well prevent the issuing of a process of this kind, in industrial disputes at least excepting upon notice to defendants, and, if requested, a full hearing.

Commenting on the nomination of Secretary Taft for the Presidency on the Republican ticket the platform asserts that "never before in the history of the nation has the retiring President with the assistance of his officeholders committed so grievous an offense against propriety, decency and popular government.

A Free Treat for Everybody.

Did you know you can now hear William Jennings Bryan in your own home? It is a fact, for Thomas A. Edison's inventive genius has brought it to pass.

Bryan himself made Edison Records of extracts from his ten best speeches and they are now being heard in the homes of owners of Edison Phonographs. They portray the persuasive eloquence of the great Nebraskan at its very best and are so natural as to be instantly recognized as the spoken words and voice of Bryan. This means a great deal to lovers of good speeches, for Bryan has no superior as a political orator and lecturer.

The effect of these tabloid Phonograph speeches is said to be equal to a long speech from most anyone else, so carefully has Mr. Bryan chosen the best things from his best speeches for the reproduction.

J. W. Robinson & Co., of Princess street, are entertaining crowds of eager listeners every day at their store. They sell the Edison Phonograph and Edison Records, and are giving free exhibitions of the Bryan Records daily.

MR. CLEVELAND'S BURIAL

The Ex-President's Remains Laid to Rest in Princeton Cemetery With Imposing But Simple Ceremonies.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Princeton, N. J., June 26.—Grover Cleveland's body lies buried tonight in the Cleveland plot in Princeton cemetery.

At 6 o'clock, just as the sun was sinking in the West, a distinguished company silently watched as the body was lowered into the grave. Then the simple burial service of the Presbyterian Church was read and before the last of the carriages in the cortege had driven up to the path leading to the burial place, the benediction had been pronounced and the members of the family, President Roosevelt and others who had gathered about the grave were leaving the cemetery. Many of the personal friends of the dead statesman lingered about the spot which was to mark his last resting place and each in turn was permitted to cast a shovel full of earth into the grave.

Agreeably to the wishes of Mrs. Cleveland, the services both at the house and at the cemetery were of the simplest character. An invocation, scriptural reading, a brief prayer and the reading of a William Wadsworth poem "Character of the Happy Warrior" constituted the services at the house, while the reading of the burial service at the grave was brief and impressive.

Although the funeral was of a strictly private nature, those in attendance numbered many distinguished citizens, including President Roosevelt, Governors Fort, of New Jersey; Hughes, of New York; Hoke Smith, of Georgia, former member of President Cleveland's cabinet; officials of the Equitable Life Assurance Society; members of the Princeton University faculty and friends and neighbors.

Mr. Cleveland was buried with all the simplicity and privacy that he himself wished as a private citizen rather than as the former Chief Executive of the Nation.

President Roosevelt arrived at 4:38 o'clock P. M., and was met at the station by Governor Fort. The President, Governor Fort and Secretary Loeb were driven at once to Westland. Upon his arrival at the house the President went to Mrs. Cleveland, offering his sympathy and expressing keen regret at Mr. Cleveland's death. The President then returned to the reception room where the body had been removed in the afternoon from the room on the second floor in which Mr. Cleveland died.

A few minutes later the four clergymen who officiated came down the stairs to the hall leading to the reception room, followed by Mrs. Cleveland and the children, Esther and Richard. As they appeared upon the landing, accompanied by Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, the whole company rose and remained standing throughout the services.

The services were concluded at 5:30 o'clock and seven minutes later the casket had been tenderly carried to the hearse and the procession started on its way to the cemetery. Along the streets from the house to the cemetery National guardsmen, mounted and on foot, policed the way.

As President Roosevelt passed through the gate leading from the Westland grounds the militia men presented arm and the President doffed his hat in recognition.

The pall-bearers, six on either side of the hearse, marched with the procession as it wended its way slowly down Bayard Lane to Nassau street, and on along the main thoroughfare of the town. Business had been suspended during the afternoon and curtains were drawn in many of the houses. The silent crowd stood with bared heads as the procession passed and the bell in the tower of Old Nassau Hall tolled mournfully.

The members of the family alighted from their carriages and with the four clergymen in the lead, walked slowly down the graveled path leading to the open grave and the rose strewn grave of Ruth, both almost hidden in the profusion of green boughs and flowers. Mrs. Cleveland stood with Esther and Richard and Dr. Bryant as the coffin was slowly lowered into the grave. Rev. William R. Richards, of the Brick Presbyterian Church, of New York, had started to read the committal even before President Roosevelt and others had reached the scene. The President stood just back of Mrs. Cleveland as the impressive final words were spoken. The services lasted less than five minutes.

The ceremonies over, President Roosevelt was driven with Secretary Loeb to the railroad station where he entered his private car and remained until the train pulled out at 6:20 o'clock, when he appeared on the platform and acknowledged the cheers and good-byes of the crowd.

Mrs. Cleveland and the immediate members of the family returned to Westland.

Death Was On His Heels.

He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. FROM PLEASURE TO POLITICS

Secretary Taft Puts on The Harness of Politica Leader of His Party.

TAKES UP HIS CANDIDACY

Gives Up Life Enjoyed at Yale For Duties of Presidential Candidate —Meets Friends in New York—Conference.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, June 26.—Secretary Taft has passed from pleasure to politics. The transition, inevitable in a way, was really not distasteful to him. During the fun-making of commencement week, at Yale he has had a pretty strenuous time. He really is greatlye faitigued. The chang therefore, from purely personal to purely political affairs was in the nature of a recreation.

The change came between New Haven, Conn., and New York city. After bidding farewell at New Haven, Conn., to some of his oldest friends, he boarded the 3:51 P. M. New York, New Haven and Hartford train for New York. The trip was quite uneventful.

As the Secretary left the station in New York for the street he was given a cordial greeting by the hundreds of people who had assembled to see him. Once more he was a presidential candidate and not merely the "Bill" Taft of Yale. The Secretary was driven directly from the station to the Manhattan Hotel where apartments for him had been reserved.

Shortly after 7 o'clock, accompanied by Mr. Jacob Schmidlapp, he left the hotel for the St. Regis where he dined as the guest of Mr. Schmidlapp.

The dinner was purely an informal function. At its conclusion the party had an automobile ride about the city. It was 10:20 o'clock when the Secretary reached the hotel. Politicians were buzzing about the lobby like bees. The Secretary greeted all of his friends and acquaintances with cordiality, but begged to be excused from any extended conferences tonight.

Soon after the Secretary reached his apartments he had a conference with President Booker T. Washington, of Alabama. Washington came to New York to attend a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Institute. He asked Mr. Taft to deliver at least two formal addresses during the approaching campaign particularly to the negroes of America. No definite conclusion was reached, but it is probable that one address of the indicated may be delivered by Secretary Taft before the close of the campaign.

Ex-Governor Luke E. Wright arrived at the Manhattan shortly after 8 o'clock directly from his home at Memphis, Tenn. A few minutes afterward General Edwards arrived from Washington.

Secretary of the Treasury George B. Cortelyou was also a guest at the Manhattan tonight. He saw Secretary Taft in the evening but their conversation was purely personal.

Tomorrow morning Secretary Taft, ex-Governor Wright and General Edwards will take an early train for Oyster Bay to confer with President Roosevelt. The purpose of the conference is to discuss questions now pending before the War Department, and ex-Governor Wright's new duties as Secretary of War. Politics surely will be discussed, particularly the selection of a chairman of the Republican National Committee. Despite the declination of Frank H. Hitchcock to allow his name to be considered with the chairmanship on account of ill-health, Secretary Taft is in receipt of hundreds of letters and telegrams urging Mr. Hitchcock's selection. Arthur I. Vory's of Ohio, is being strongly urged, particularly by Ohioans. Yet, others are advocating the selection of some man very prominent in national affairs. Among the names mentioned are those of Senator Murray Crane, of Massachusetts; Secretary George B. Courtelyou, manager of President Roosevelt's campaign and Postmaster General Myer.

Secretary Taft hopes to conclude his talk with President Roosevelt tomorrow in time to enable him to return to Washington tomorrow night.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S RETURN

To His Home From the Funeral of Former President Cleveland.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 26.—President Roosevelt returned from Princeton, N. J., at 9:02 o'clock P. M. tonight where he attended the funeral exercises of ex-President Cleveland. Leaving Princeton at 6:20 o'clock the President's special on the Pennsylvania railroad reached Jersey City at 7:22. Governor Fort of New Jersey and Governor Hughes here left the train together, bidding each other good bye at the station, the President boarding the tug Lancaster for Long Island City. The trip from train to pier was through a large crowd of commuters. As the President passed, the men in the crowd silently uncovered and Mr. Roosevelt responded in kind.

The tug conveying the President started at 7:30 o'clock for Long Island City where the President boarded another special train for Oyster Bay. A warm greeting was given the executive by throngs of passengers at the Long Island City depot.

CLUB WOMEN'S OUTING.

An Accident Which Causes Serious Injury to Several of Them.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

Newport, R. I., June 26.—The 2,000 club women who came here from Boston today for an outing, went back greatly saddened as a result of an accident which caused serious injuries to three of their number. Many of the visitors who were delegates to the bi-ennial session of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Boston, had been enjoying carriage drives about the city and it was the occupants of a tally-ho coach bound for Eastern Beach who met disaster. When the coach had reached the middle of a steep hill on Bath Road one of its forward axles suddenly broke and almost instantly the vehicle collapsed. Nearly all of the women were caught beneath the coach which turned completely over. Private automobiles carried the injured to the Newport hospital.

Most of those taken to the hospital were able to leave the institution after they had been treated for bruiser and other minor injuries and tonight only three remain. The condition of one of these, Mrs. Henry Wynn of Madlen, Mass., suffering from a fracture of the skull, is regarded as very critical.

AWAITING DEVELOPMENTS.

The Attitude of Our Government in Venezuelan Affair.

Washington, June 26.—The State Department is "marking time" on the Venezuelan question. Events that have occurred have produced a situation that promises little change for some time and this Government is merely "awaiting the course of events." The gunboat Marietta will leave Curacao tomorrow for Guantanamo with Jacob Sleeper, Secretary of the American embassy at Caracas, and Lieutenant Frances A. Ruggles, military attache, as passengers. Senor Veloz-Goitticoa, the Venezuelan charge at Washington, remains in this city, but tomorrow will take up his residence in the suburbs where he will continue to be in close touch with the State Department if necessary. Nothing had been learned at the Venezuelan legation today concerning the events in Caracas, so that no new light could be shed upon the diplomatic tangle involving the two countries.
